

Dear Families,

In the upcoming weeks, you may receive a survey from Wayne State University about your experiences with special education. Wayne State University is working with the Michigan Department of Education to help find out families' views about special education services and your responses may help improve services for families across Michigan. It is important for families to return the parent survey. The survey will come with instructions on how to access the survey online, as well. Thank you for helping us to collect this important information.
